Care for your rubber!

Rameder with tips to preserve door and boot seals

Door and boot rubber seals are under constant stress, so you better care for them not only in winter, when car drivers get out the “chapstick” to prevent them for freezing at any rate. Do so also in summer, when they are subjected to aggressive UV radiation and heat, making them brittle, stiff or worse. Any tear or hole will necessitate an expensive repair. And for modern-era classic cars and vintage cars you may also find it hard to get the right spares. Rameder, providing a huge range of car accessories, thus recommends the Nigrin rubber care spray.

The convenient 250ml spray can is certainly much better than the classic glycerine stick, allowing you to apply it much faster, even on four or five-door vehicles, and in barely accessible places in a targeted fashion. After all, it is not supposed to be sprayed on windows, buttons, steering wheel etc. After its abherent treatment, the rubber will feel utterly soft again and look like new. Needless to say, any freezing is also prevented.

You can get the Nigrin rubber care spray from the Rameder online shop www.rameder.eu for only € 4.59.
